School Report.

Your committee, in reviewing the results of the schools the past year for the purpose of making his report, feels that while in some instances the schools have not been in all respects what is desirable, there has been a fair degree of success and no entire failures. Teachers need a great deal of encouragement from their patrons, as their work is most arduous and responsible. Such assistance the teachers of our town fail to receive. The registers show that but two prudential committees and forty parents have had sufficient interest in their schools, the past year, to visit them.

There has been a school in every district in town, averaging 13.3 weeks. The longest school in any district has been 26 weeks, the shortest 5. Whole number of enrolled scholars attending two weeks or more, 307; average daily attendance, 221. The whole amount of school revenue, $1690.20.

Six teachers have taught for the first time, most of them showing energy and adaptability for their work and only needing experience to fit them for good teachers. Eleven have taught two or more successive terms in the same district. Much valuable time is saved by employing the same teacher several terms in one district. The teacher's previous acquaintance with the scholars' dispositions and qualifications enables them to do much more work in a term than could be accomplished by teachers not acquainted with the school. Of the twenty-three teachers employed, fifteen have taught in town in previous years. Many of our teachers have been all we could desire as regards their qualifications and ability for government of schools. A few have evinced a woful ignorance of their duties and responsibilities—this I willingly acknowledge, but a few reasons may suffice to show why they are allowed to teach. Prudential committee, for the sake of having long schools, often seek to hire a teacher for an amount of money far below the market value of the services of competent teachers, thereby opening a field to those who have had but little, if any, experience, and may be partially deficient in qualifications as teachers. Another reason is that in many of our schools the scholars are young and few in number, consequently they think but little talent is required.

There has been no change of text-books, but in conformity to a law passed in our last legislature, requiring the teachers to pass an examination in physiology and hygiene, having special reference to the effects of 'alcoholic drinks, stimulants and narcotics upon the human system,' and this branch to be introduced into schools sufficiently advanced to admit it, I have, after careful examination, adopted Brand's Physiology and Hygiene. In six districts classes have been formed, and thinking some good might be done for the temperance cause, I have requested the teachers in all the other districts, with the exception of three, to give oral instruction in that branch. In the fall school at No. 9, I found what might be termed a model class in physiology.

In some of the districts the prudential committee have purchased wall maps which is money well invested. In nearly every school-room the black-boards are in a bad condition, the surface being so hard and glossy that a mark can hardly be made visible. No school room is complete without a good blackboard, and prudential committees should see that proper ones are supplied.

I have made 62 official visits, finding many good elements in nearly every school. The summer term in No.4 ranks first in regular attendance, 8 out of ten having their names on the "Roll of Honor." This school district has maintained the first rank in regular attendance for the past four years.

Punctuality is a duty parents should attend to, for on regular attendance depends very much the success of a school.

The summer school in No. 10 made very marked advancement in reading and writing, especially the younger portion of the school.

As a whole, I think the schools compare favorably with those of last year. Many of the schools are very small, as you will see by the annexed statistical table. We have had eleven terms of school with an average attendance of eight scholars or less, one term of five weeks with two scholars, and one term with one. In the latter district, No. 21, the tuition fee of that scholar per week was four dollars, while in the summer term at Centre Sandwich, the tuition fee was but 16 1-4 cts., the average through town 33 1-3 cts. Such facts as these show that our present school system ought to be changed, either some of the districts united or the TOWN SYSTEM adopted. The latter I think preferable.

The subject of abolishing the district system and substituting for it the town system will be considered at our next annual meeting. Therefore it is hoped that each one will inform himself and so be prepared to vote intelligently in the matter.

Thanking prudential committees, teachers and scholars, for the courtesy shown me and the promptness with which my suggestions have been accepted, I submit this report with annexed statistical table and the general school statistical REPORT.

H. H. QUIMBY, School Committee.
